

THE CASE OF BRAULT.

Yesterday Judge Rising sentenced Freddie Brault to one year in the penitentiary for stabbing Geo. Cahill in a saloon.

The Judge told the prisoner that it was a sad sight to see one of his tender years in such a situation, and he gave him the lowest limit.

It is to be hoped that the scores of young boys who swagger about the streets and saloons at night, d-lighting to drink and be known as bloods, will take a lesson from this case and let liquor and flighting alone. The Grand Jury now in session propose to investigate all cases where liquor is sold to minors.

Read the Constitution.

"Hereafter the duelist is eligible for office in this State, a resolution having been adopted by the Legislature doing away with the duelist oath heretofore required of all State officers."

The above from the Times-Review is misleading, and unless our esteemed contemporary wishes to be classed with a majority of the Legislature the Journal suggests that it read the State Constitution or at least Sec. 2 Article XV of that instrument and correct the error in the above paragraph. The majority of the Legislature has furnished conclusive proof that it has no regard for the Constitution, and probably some of the members are ignorant of the existence of the fundamental law of the State and recognize no authority but the commands of the bosses, but the courts have respect for the Constitution and therefore at the first opportunity will declare null and void any Act of the Legislature as glaringly unconstitutional as that referred to by the Times Review. While it really makes no difference whether the duelling clause is eliminated from the official oath or not, as the custom of avenging real or imaginary insults by making a target of one's self has become obsolete in Nevada, the Constitution must be amended by a majority of the popular vote before the official oath which it prescribes for all officers can be changed in any particular.

The Trout Bill.

The bill to limit the trout fishing season to five months, is based on the idea that the fish are decreasing. Such is not actually the case. They are rapidly increasing and the lakes are so full that the fish are lean for lack of food.

The open season allowed in the bill, includes such hot weather that the fish will spoil in shipment, except the shippers go to great expense for ice. The fish are protected by the demand.

A few days ago Bella Preusch, a young lady in Virginia City, was passing a house of ill-fame, when a woman who used to be her school-mate, beckoned her to come in. She did so for a few minutes, and was expelled from school. Overcome with mortification, she shot herself with a pistol and is not expected to live.

If there is any one thing more than another that needs a thorough overhauling, that same is the mountain mail business. In most instances the original contractor gets all the profit and rolls in clover, while the actual carrier wallows in snow and catches hell all along the route. Homer Index

Articles of incorporation have been signed for building a railroad across the southern portion of the State. People are anxious to know if it is one of those "franchise rackets" that enabled a few men to make a clean-up of about $50,000 some years ago.

The Humboldt Board of Commissioners send to San Francisco to get counters built and exhaust the money saved paying freight.

The Australian Ballot comes very near shutting off the men who cannot read or write.
